

THE FALL OF ROME

The Fall of Rome is a ten year accumulation of playing the Lafayette and Northern Indiana music scenes. Fronted by Brent Stillabower (former SIN TAX singer/guitarist), the four piece continues on their uncompromising ambient rock drive under the influence of school-day bands such as Failure, Hum, Quicksand, The Cure, and their own addictive experiences in former bands. Together with the spacey stylings of Russ Wetli (former LETTERS OF LOSS guitarist) and the rhythmic foundation composed of Jon Bolotte (former LETTERS OF LOSS guitarist) on bass and Richard Huff (former SIN TAX guitarist) on drums, the band creates a roaming sound that skews the root concept of Rock.
